How YOU Can Help a Refugee from Syria

In the face of the devastating and inhumane conditions in Syria, it is easy to feel overwhelmed. What can one person or a group of people do to help? The Canadian Unitarian Council has ways for you to get involved:

1. Join an active Sponsoring Group in your community who is already working on helping refugees.
2. Sponsor a refugee or family with your congregation or a group you form – we can help with training and support.
3. Give. It costs approximately $10,000 to bring an individual to Canada, and every dollar helps. Whether online or by cheque, donations to our Refugee Fund will receive tax receipts.

For years, the CUC has worked with Canadian congregations and constituent groups to help bring refugees from all over the world to resettle in Canada. Together, we can make a difference! For more information about how you can help, please contact April Hope at april@cuc.ca with REFUGEE in the subject line.
